 Faculty Senate Bill 16-A-1 begins here.

Faculty Senate

The Faculty Senate was organized in 1966 and recognized by the Board of Regents as the official representative body of the faculty. Approval by the Board of Regents on March 25, 1976, of Senate Bill 76-A-01, "Recommendations on Academic Reorganization," and particularly Part I, "University Governance," reaffirmed the role of the Faculty Senate as the established representative body through which the faculty could make "formal recommendations for new academic policy and changes in existing policy." The Board of Regents' action in 1976 formally provided assurance of faculty input into academic policy developed by means of the Faculty Senate.

President Stacy and the Board of Regents, in a letter to the Faculty Senate dated January 29, 1982, reaffirmed their commitment to receive the expression of faculty opinion through the Faculty Senate. Senate members were asked to utilize their professional competence and best judgment to review, develop, and make recommendations to the President and the Board of Regents on all matters of concern to the University community.

Faculty Senate Organization

Senate membership consists of departmental unit representatives elected for three-year terms with one third of the membership elected each year. Officers of the Senate are elected annually from the Senate membership. The purposes, duties, functions and responsibilities of Faculty Senate are found in the Faculty Senate Constitution.

The Role of the Faculty Senate in Academic Affairs

Under a collegial form of governance, all segments of the University community are involved in reviewing and making recommendations for changes in existing policies and procedures. The University vests in its faculty, acting through its representative body, the Faculty Senate, the authority to make formal recommendations for new University academic policy and procedure as well as changes in existing policy and procedures. The Faculty Senate reviews proposals and develops recommendations for changes in academic policy and procedure through its committee system. The function of Faculty Senate committees is to recommend policy and procedures in academic affairs and in all other matters involving the faculty.

Academic policy is understood to consist of those statements on academic matters that are formally adopted and promulgated by the University. Thus, a "change in academic policy" is understood to refer to an alteration or addition which would necessitate changes in academic procedures throughout the University. Academic policy is understood to be the implementation of the corresponding policy. Policies for which the Faculty Senate deems procedures are required should not be implemented until the procedures are fully developed.

Outline of Committee Structure

A Faculty Senate Committee is a committee which is charged by the Faculty Senate and which must report to the Faculty Senate through its Chair. Information regarding Faculty Senate Committees may be found in Section 7 of the Faculty Senate By-Laws.

A University Standing Committee is a committee which is charged by the President of the University and which must report to the President of the University and/or an individual designated by the President of the University.
