We are excited to announce that Southeast Missouri State University now offers Degree Maps online for incoming and prospective students. This is a great tool for counselors, college advisors, students and their families to use when deciding what major to pursue at Southeast. The Degree Maps are now available for most majors on our Areas of Study webpage, semo.edu/study.

The Degree Maps include a brief description of the program, instances where Southeast's program is unique, career planning options for students, graduate, employment, and internship opportunities of recent graduates, special requirements for entrance into the program, required classes and a sample four-year plan.

At Southeast, students will...

- Experience a world-class academic environment at an affordable cost.
- Choose from over 200 areas of study.
- Have the opportunity for experiential learning and career exploration.
- Work with faculty and staff that genuinely care about their success.
