Fundraising

Many student organizations have big plans and excellent ideas for programs or services. However, few organizations have the finances to make these plans real. Fundraising is a great alternative to charging members higher dues. Fundraising events can be fun for all involved if they are planned properly. It is important to make the fundraising project a group effort and to get as many people involved as possible. Not only will you have more help to accomplish your goals, but you will also get more people interested in giving money. The key to being successful in fundraising is to be creative and to keep your goal in mind.

Members of your organization will not get excited or interested in your fundraising efforts if they do not know where the money will go. In addition, members of the community will not give unless there is a good cause. Make sure the reason you are raising money is a legitimate cause and let everyone know why you are raising funds.

If your organization is considering planning a fundraiser, we highly suggest contacting the Coordinator for Leadership Development, University Center 202, MS 1200, (573) 651-2280, leadership@semo.edu, to brainstorm and become familiar with relevant laws and policies.

Planning Your Fund Raiser

- Set a goal.
- Ask for suggestions from your members. What do the members want to do? Brainstorm for creative and new ideas.
- Find out what has been done before. What worked? What didn’t? Why? How can you improve?
- Check into local and state regulations. Check University policy. See the Food and Beverage Policy\(^1\), information on Gambling\(^2\), and the Screening and Public Performance Policy\(^3\) located in the General Policies & Procedures section of the Student Organization Handbook, www.semo.edu/leadership/studentorgs.
- Involve all members of your organization, not just the officers. People contribute to what they create. Get as many volunteers for your project as possible. Make sure they understand the cause and are willing to contribute their time and effort.
- Determine your market: students, community, parents, etc.
- Know your overhead costs (supplies, marketing, etc.).
- Advertise wisely.
- Let everyone know your expectations in advance and update them on progress. Using a goal poster is a great idea; make sure that poster is displayed prominently.
- Recognize everyone involved in the planning and implementation of the fund raising project.
- Reward those who achieve. Make certificates, ribbons, or other type of small rewards for everyone who volunteered for the project.
- Thank supporters. Give your big donors some kind of tangible reminder of how they contributed to a good cause. Create and maintain good will with these contributors, because they will tend to help in the future.
- Complete a written evaluation or report. Make sure you include:
  - Contact names, addresses, and phone numbers
  - Time lines and important dates
  - Suggestions of things to do differently
