- VI. Any person bringing an animal onto university property shall be responsible for removal of any feces deposited by the animal, as well as the clean up of any other waste products or damages done by the animal to university property.
- VII. Any animal found within a University-controlled building may be impounded. Impounded animals may be reclaimed by the owner at the Southeast Missouri Humane Society upon payment in full of all costs incurred as a result of the impoundment, including any veterinary expenses.
- VIII. Repeated violations of this policy and operating procedures by University members should be reported to the Office of Student Conduct (student violations) or Human Resources (staff and/or faculty violations) for appropriate action. Reported violations will be investigated by the appropriate office and may result in disciplinary action in accordance with the Southeast Student Code of Conduct or faculty/staff handbooks.
- IX. Employee requests for exemption under these procedures as accomodation under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) should contact the Director of Human Resources. Student requests for exemption and accomodation under the ADA should be made to the Director Learning Assistance Program and Disability Support Services.
